Latina/Latino Studies Minor

Latina/Latino Studies at the University of Missouri-St. Louis is an interdisciplinary program dedicated to the study of the historical, social, political, language, and cultural experiences of U.S. Latina/Latinos, their families and communities. Students in this program will examine how transnational understandings of race, ethnicity, politics, culture, and language are mapped onto and struggled over within the United States, the Midwest, and St. Louis.

In addition to two required courses—Introduction to Latina/Latino Studies and an internship/service learning Capstone Experience—students will select three electives to round out the minor, each from a different discipline, on topics such as immigration, bilingualism, cultural worldview, comparative politics, and history (more classes will be added as created). Students will combine courses across the disciplinary spectrum into an individualized program to gain a deeper understanding of Latina/Latino cultures, histories, and social conditions; while they engage in collaborative projects, civic programs, and service learning; and enhance writing and analytical skills.

Introductory Course
HIST 2002  Introduction to Latinx Studies  3

Electives  9
Choose 3 from following list; at most one course from each discipline will count toward the minor/certificate

CRIMIN 4340  Race, Crime, and Justice

TCH ED 3210  General Linguistics in Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages

TCH ED 3211  Basic Principles of Second and Foreign Language Acquisition

TCH ED 3212  Sociolinguistics and Communication in the Classroom

FGN LANG 2100  Languages and World View

PHIL 1030  Present Moral Problems

POL SCI 1500  Introduction to Comparative Politics (MOTR POSC 202)

POL SCI 2530  Political Systems of South America

POL SCI 2540  Political Systems of Mexico, Central America and the Caribbean

SPANISH 2101  or above (SPANISH 1199 can substitute)

Capstone
A service learning/internship capstone experience course in the Latina/Latino community approved by the program director.  3

Total Hours  15

Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of the program, graduates will be able to:

- Read, interpret evidence, and draw conclusions about the role and contributions of Latinxs to the history, culture, economy, language, politics, and social experiences of the United States;
- Communicate ideas about Latinxs, Latinx communities, and race, gender, class, and ethnicity in evidence-based presentations, writings, and new media;
- Apply a foundational understanding of Latinxs, Latinx communities, and complexities of race, gender, class, and ethnicity to new situations, questions, and concerns.