

Communication BA

The BA in Communication is a flexible degree program that students can tailor to meet personal, professional, or academic goals through elective courses in interpersonal, mass, strategic, and visual communication. Students explore how messages are constructed, delivered, and perceived by audiences. Whether the intent is to inform, influence, or entertain, students will use research and theory to improve message effectiveness and achieve desired outcomes in interpersonal and mass-mediated communication. In addition, students can find a creative outlet in courses that focus on content creation and its consequences and significance.

Students majoring in communication must complete a minimum of 36 credit-hours in communication courses. Students may complete either a general communication degree or they may select one of four different emphasis areas as a focus for their studies: Interpersonal Communication, Mass Communication, Applied Visual Communication, or Strategic Communication. To complete the degree with one of these emphases, the student must complete the 21 credit-hour core and at least 15 hours of electives from within the selected emphasis area. In addition, the skills and knowledge applied in the required Practicum/Internship should be consistent with the selected emphasis area. Students seeking a general communication degree must complete the 21 credit-hour core and can select elective courses from any combination of the emphasis areas.

General Education Requirements

Majors must satisfy the university and college general education requirements. The college's foreign language requirement may be taken in any language. Communication courses may not be taken on a satisfactory/unsatisfactory basis.
