Philosophy BA

Philosophy is about hard questions: Are we free? Is there a God? What is knowledge? What should I do with my life? In addressing these questions, philosophy develops your skills in thinking, analysis, writing, argumentation and critical reading. Studying philosophy makes you more open-minded: you'll encounter the ideas of people that have lived lives very different from yours, and you'll be impressed by them. Philosophy is enormously interesting and rewarding. If anyone ever asks you "why study philosophy" you'll answer "why haven't you started yet?"

The undergraduate major in philosophy requires 30 hours of philosophy coursework. A minimum of 18 hours in Philosophy must be taken from the UMSL Department of Philosophy. Courses above the 3000-level taken elsewhere do not count toward the major. Philosophy majors must complete all required courses (under Course Requirements) with a grade of "C-" or higher and maintain a 2.0 GPA for all their Philosophy coursework. Majors must meet the university and college General Education Requirements

General Education Requirements

Majors must meet the university and college general education requirements (http://bulletin.umsl.edu/DepartmentofPhilosophy/). Candidates for the B.A. degree may take any foreign language to meet the foreign language requirement. Students who double major with a B.A. in Philosophy and a B.S. degree in Biology, Biochemistry and Biotechnology, Chemistry, Computer Science, Mathematics, or Physics may waive the foreign language requirement.
